

Sid Rubinstein Award

In recognition for the hard work that our members put into proving their competency on a national level, The New England Society of Orthopaedic Technologists (NESOT) established a Sid Rubinstein Award for one NESOT member and one NESOT student member who passed that year's National Board for Certification of Orthopaedic Technologists (NBCOT) exam. The award is reimbursement for the exam fee to the individual or the candidate's employer (excluding late fees).
